Profile

Sielte, established in 1925 as a company of the Swedish Ericsson Group, has been a private company owned by the Turrisi family since 1999, with registered office in Catania and general management in Rome.

The process of change and diversification of activities has broadened the horizon of customers, represented not only by all the major Telecommunications Operators, but also by the main Companies operating in the field of Large Infrastructures (Railways, Motorways, Airports, etc.) and by Public Administration Bodies.

Sielte is a company that meets the current needs of the reference markets, understanding and anticipating them, to assume a leading role in the great digital transformation by fully exploiting the potential offered by the ICT sector and making its own innovative contribution in the traditional field of infrastructures of Telecommunications.
